Academic Project

Online Movie Booking System — MERN Stack Project (link- <https://hamrocinemamern.vercel.app>)

- A website together made by 3 people including me that lets user book browse movies, view showtimes and dates and book movie seats online.
- MongoDB atlas is used to store user profiles, bookings and movie details.
- Clerk is used to handle authentication, authorization and user profiles.
- The movie lists, details and images are fetched dynamically from TMDB(The Movie Database) api.
- Inngest is used for running background tasks and event driven functions.

A group project where we collaborated through github and used git for tracking purposes. I handled some frontend code however majority of the backend code was written by me.
